

Coaching role for lecturer

SOUTH West Regional Football Development Council has welcomed Jamie Douse to the team as newly appointed South West talent and coaching coordinator.

Douse will take over the duties of Mark Skehan and will be responsible for the South West Academy of Sport squad program, as well as coach education and accreditation throughout the region. For the past four years Douse has worked at South West Regional College TAFE as a lecturer in the Department of Fitness Sport and Recreation.

He also holds a level two Australian strength and conditioning association and a level one Australian Weightlifting Federation sports power coach certificate.
