

National success for Tucker

EQUESTRIAN: Capel 19 year old Phoebe Tucker has been selected to join Equestrian Australia's Eventing National Youth Development Squad.

Tucker achieved a two star eventing rating last year on her horse Gravitron, just one level below international competition standard.

The National Youth

Development Squad recognises riders under 25 years of age who have achieved outstanding results in the past 12 months.

Tucker will be involved in training clinics and receive national coaching to continue Australia's tradition of excellence in the field of international eventing.
