

Jess and Rikki are making a big commitment to regular training sessions as far as Bunbury.
PICTURE: DEREK POOL

Game careers beckon for lissome sisters

COWARAMUP basketball sisters Rikki and Jess Cameron hope recent entry into the South West Academy squad will help propel them into careers in the sport.

The pair, who have been playing since Year Three, are two of 20 players from the region selected for the South West Academy of Sport team recently and will under go intense training in Bunbury and Busselton.

Rikki, who is 13-years-old, will start training for the under 16s team and said she was privileged to have been selected for regular "talent development" training with the academy.

"It means I've been looked upon as a player and it will help me in a career," she said.

Jess, who is 15-years-old, will be trained for the under 18s team and said her drive to continue five-day-a-week training sessions was the chance to improve as a player.

"When I first started it was my friends that kept me going but once I got into teams it was more the fitness and keeping in it to improve my game," she said.