

THE GRIFFIN GROUP

GRIFFIN GROUP NEWS

ACADEMY OFF TO A GREAT START

The South West Academy of Sport (SWAS) achieved a significant milestone this month with the opening of their administrative offices in Bunbury.

The new centre was officially opened by Sport and Recreation Minister Terry Waldron and Group Executive Director of The Griffin Group, Jason Stowe.

"As foundation partner, Griffin is proud to have helped the South West Academy of Sport become a reality for the local community," Jason said.

"The opening of the new administration office is a significant milestone for the Academy which will further enhance the support offered to local athletes in their pursuit of sporting excellence."

The Academy's basketball squad is already in training, with squad selection for hockey, Australian Rules football and soccer to follow.

From left: Rolf Stene, SWAS Deputy Chairman, Don Punch, SWAS Chairman, Jason Stowe, Group Executive Director of The Griffin Group, Bernice Butlion, SWAS CEO and Terry Waldron, Sport and Recreation Minister.